

TECH MEETS G. C. M. A.; C. H. S. AND M. U. S. READY

Wednesday Battle at Hodges Field Promises To Be Fast and Furious Throughout—Both Teams Primed for Hard Game—Central High and M. U. S. Turkey Day.

BY BOB FIGUE.

The stage is all set for the big grid struggle between the Tech High Yellowjackets, of Memphis, and the Gulf Coast Military academy, of Gulfport, Miss., which will hold the boards at Hodges field starting at 3 o'clock. After a week of strenuous conditioning coaches of both teams report their charges in great shape to give local grid fans one of the stiffest struggles of the year. Coach Lloyd and his G. C. M. A. huskies went through a signal drill at Hodges field Tuesday afternoon, while Coach Shea gave his outfit a final scrimmage before sending them against the sturdy cadets.

The visitors have been made the favorites among those who are inclined to hazard a long green, owing to the excellent showing of the cadets this season as compared to the showing of the Yellowjackets, who have dropped decisions to both Central High and Memphis University school. The cadets have lost but one game this season, that by a margin of one point, when Spring Hill college, of Mobile, beat them by a 7-6 score.

WILL BE A BATTLE.

Tech's Jackets are going into the Wednesday battle with the determination to win at all costs, and will throw every ounce of their reserve strength into the game for the expressed purpose of lowering the colors of the Gulf Coasters. The invaders came to Memphis with a reputation of being one of the leading teams of Sunland preceding them. They have shown a decided punch in last games, and are expected by their supporters to sweep the Tech machine off its feet. Coach Tom Shea of Tech is not looking for a defeat. He knows his men and he has every member of his team in great condition for the toughest battle of their careers. Charley House and Eugene Williams, native sons, will bear the offensive burden for the invaders and make an effort to lower the colors of Tech. The Tech backfield, which did such good work in games of the present season, has a punch left to muster against the strong Gulf Coasters, and refuses to concede that the visitors have anything on them.

HOW THEY LINE UP.

Here's the opening lineup and officials: Tech. Yellowjackets. Laue-Pride...L. E. Perkins Jones...L. T. Humphries Elmer...C. G. Guenther Barrios...R. G. Dupree King-Kent...R. T. Newman Carroway...R. E. Goldberg Cook...Q. B. Grogan Williams...L. H. McIntosh House. Francis...R. H. Miller Wood...B. Ferguson. Officials—Capt. Day (Syracuse), referee; Buckingham (Harvard), umpire.

Dixie's Greatest Football Season Closes Turkey Day With Leading Elevens of Sunland Meeting on Gridiron

Grid Experts Can't See This New Suggestion

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The suggestion recently advanced by Percy D. Houghton, former Harvard football coach, that a forward pass blocked behind the line of scrimmage be subject to recovery by the defending team, has not met with favor by many coaches.

William H. (Big Bill) Edwards, former Princeton captain, said "if they keep on changing the rules they will kill the game." Chick Meehan, Syracuse coach, declared that the suggestion, if adopted, would tend to make the game less open because passes would be more dangerous and the light college elevens would be handicapped. Buck O'Neill, Columbia coach, said such a grounded pass would cause a lively scramble in which players would be more liable to injury.

More Interest Than Ever Before Manifested in Pigskin Sport, and Some Great Football Machines Turned Out During the Year—Georgia Tech Stands Out Above All.

BY BOB FIGUE.

After the greatest and most prosperous football season in the history of the gridiron sport, the curtain will be rung down Thanksgiving day throughout Sunland, with the leading elevens of Dixie in action. Attendance records of all former years have been smashed by the throngs that have turned out to witness the pigskin sport, and more interest has been maintained this year throughout the season than has ever been known since football was introduced. Southern football fans have been rewarded with some of the strongest elevens in the country performing within their borders.

On Turkey day the season will close. In Memphis there will be a battle between Central high school and Memphis University school for the championship of the Bluff City. This game will be attended by six or seven thousand spectators, for the memorable struggle always attracts an immense outpouring of fans, and since neither team has dropped a verdict to a local eleven this year, the approaching game is all the more keenly anticipated.

BIG TEAMS CLASH.

More big teams have come to the front this year than in a number of seasons, and all reports have told of records for attendance as the games being broken. The Thanksgiving day contests that end the season, except for one or two later games, are expected to add new records. Among the day's greatest games, from the caliber of the teams and the advance interest are those between Auburn and Georgia Tech in Atlanta, Alabama and Mississippi A. and M. in Birmingham, and Tulane and Louisiana State, in Baton Rouge.

Tech and Auburn are practically an even money proposition, although there are some who are giving odds on the Alabama eleven. The University of Alabama, according to previous form, should take its game with A. and M. team, and Tulane has a better record than that of L. S. U. Many of the other big teams appear almost certain of victory.

Georgia university meets Clemson, at Athens, Ga., with odds heavily on the unbeaten Georgians. Virginia Military institute is as big a favorite in its clash with Virginia Polytechnic institute at Roanoke. Virginia university's record has not been impressive this season as a whole, but the team is expected to have the edge on the University of North Carolina in their game at Charlottesville.

Numbers of other games of more than average interest are scheduled, including those between the universities of Tennessee and Kentucky, at Knoxville, and the Florida Oglethorpe contest at Columbia. The Carolinas also will furnish a number of interesting games including those between North Carolina State and Wakeforest, at Greensboro, and Furman and Davidson, at Columbia. The University of South Carolina and the Citadel, at Charleston.

Thanksgiving Day Games Provide Holiday Thrills

Many Football Schedules Will Come to Close Thursday Ushering Out the Most Successful Season.

BY JACK VEIOCK, (International News Sporting Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Thanksgiving, with its festive turkey, its good cheer and its football, is with us.

The ushering in of Turkey day means the ushering out of the football season, and with the exception of the annual clash between the Army and Navy at the Polo grounds Saturday and a few scattering games thereafter, the shut of the educational toe against the pigskin will be heard no more until another autumn rolls around.

Tomorrow's schedule marks the official close of the most successful season in the history of the gridiron sport. It has been a season of thrills; a season that has developed an unusually large quota of brilliant performers on the line lines, and a season of the greatest excitement and most enthusiastic crowds in football history.

Most of the big elevens of the country have wound up their schedules and laid away the moleskins, but there are several games on schedule tomorrow that will attract genuine interest.

Pitt vs. Penn.

One of the biggest games will be played at Pittsburgh, where Coach Warner's Panthers will take on their old rivals from State college—the Crack Penn State team, Hugo Bezdek has pointed the "Stater" all season for this game. He has saved Way, his great halfback, in nearly all of Penn State's previous games, and Way, who is a "T. N. T." in molekilo, will be turned loose when the Panthers and State line up in the Smoky City. Both teams are strong in all departments of the game and from advance indications Pittsburgh fans were assured of a battle worth while going many miles to see.

At Washington there will be another collision between rival elevens when Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia line up for action.

At Philadelphia the Quakers will tangle with their old-time foe from Ithaca when they take on Cornell's chunky Red team. The Cornellians were strong favorites in a recent game when they had an exceptionally poor season.

Cornhuskers Play.

Another game that will attract attention will be played at Lincoln, where the Cornhuskers will meet Washington State. Notre Dame's crack team, minus the services of Halfback Gipp, who is at East Lansing, Mich., with the Michigan Aggies on the other end of the argument.

At Columbia, Mo., the Kansas Jayhawkers will tackle an old foe in Missouri university, and at Los Angeles Oregon and the University of Southern California.

Other games of varying importance are scheduled tomorrow, among them the annual clash between Washington and St. Louis, at the Mount City.

"Texas Bill" Cunningham, "Musical Football Player"

Has Won Success as Pianist and Writer of Music—Is Member of Dartmouth Glee Club in Many Recitals.

(By International News Service.)

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 24.—"Texas Bill" Cunningham, crack center of the Dartmouth college eleven, is known as "the musical football player."

When on the gridiron Cunningham plays the piano and writes music as part of his football training. Music gives a new punch to Cunningham's football training.

In addition to being a writer for magazines and newspapers and having a one-act play now traveling on the Keith circuit, Cunningham is a musician of no mean ability. He has been assistant to the professor of music at Dartmouth, playing the organ in Rollins chapel.

As a member of the Dartmouth Glee club the Texas star has sung his way over a good deal of country, and as a composer has contributed various bits to college and town entertainments. Perhaps his greatest triumph as a writer came last summer, when he won from a field of 50 competitors the $250 prize offered for a song for the great Texas State fair.

Bill, however, is inclined to think that "Honey, Pray for the Lights to Go Out," which he held to Irvin Berlin, was a better song. While serving with the A. E. F. in France Cunningham began his literary career by translating Latin poetry into English and astonishing the academician who had been deceived by his physical appearance. Though long a member of The Arts, Dartmouth's club of soft-shinned under-graduates, Cunningham is one of the puzzles that bob up once in every generation to upset all laboratory dope.

Another thing to Bill's long list of activities is that he is a rider. With a Miss Robertson, of New York, he won the prize for officers and ladies at the A. E. F. horse show at Lexington, Va., and he has ridden a horse, carried off the honors in the half-mile race for officers' mounts.

From the time that he broke into the football game, Cunningham has claimed a good deal of attention from gridiron enthusiasts, and since his great play against the Harvard eleven in this year's season, his name has been prominently mentioned for all-American honors. "Texas Bill" is 24 years old, stands 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs 175 pounds and weighs 117 pounds.

Auto Speed Demons To Race Over Beverly Hills Speedway

BEVERLY HILLS, Mass., Nov. 24.—A dozen of the most famous racing drivers in America are hard at work holding daily practices on the Beverly Hills speedway here in preparation for the great race on Thanksgiving day which will decide the American championship for the year. With $35,000 in prize money, in addition to the title, as incentive for competition, all the rivalries of the past year have come to the surface and it looks like a bitter fight ahead.

Among the notable speed pilots who have established themselves, their mechanics and their cars on the Los Angeles automobile establishment in preparation for the November classic are the following favorites: Ralph de Palma, Tommy Milton, Jimmy Murphy, Gaston Chevrolet, Roscoe Scales, Eddie O'Donnell, Benny Hill, Joe Thomas and Eddie Hearne.

When all the star racers have arrived there will be close to a score of pilots on hand for the great race. Read News Scimitar Wants.

ANOTHER TRIPLE WINNERS BOOKED FOR MONDAY SHOW

Bobby Hughes, of Fort Worth, Meets Young Dempsey—Joe Donley vs. Young Leonard and Kid Black vs. Williams.

Another triple winnup has been booked by Promoter Billy Haack for the Southern Athletic club Monday night. Three high-class eight-round battles have been arranged by Promoter Haack for the regular weekly glove show. The card as scheduled is as follows: A four-round preliminary: Kid Black, of Memphis, vs. Lester Williams, of St. Louis, negro welterweights, eight rounds.

Young Jack Dempsey, of Memphis, vs. Bobby Hughes, of Fort Worth, bantamweights, eight rounds.

Each of these four bouts should afford local fans an evening of high-class gloving, for every boy on the card is a top-notch, and capable of putting up a fast exhibition.

Bobby Hughes, the Fort Worth gladiator, is a veteran ringster, although being young in years. He has met every one of the headliners in the bantam division and has been a contender for the crown now worn by Pete Herman, champion of the midwest.

Young Dempsey has been fighting well, and has met with but few setbacks, and while anticipating a hard fight Monday, believes he will be able to outpoint the Fort Worth flash.

The Joe Donley-Young Leonard scrap should afford some fast action. The Kid Black-Lester Williams engagement should give local fans eight rounds of slugging.

Georgia Tech Gets Another Star Halfback

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Max Houser, star halfback of the 1919 Lafayette college football team, announced today that he would enter Georgia Tech, shortly after the Thanksgiving recess. Houser did not return to Lafayette this fall, going to Yale instead.

TENNESSEE RAISES FRESHMAN RULE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24.—The University of Tennessee delegation to the annual meeting of the S. I. A. A., which convenes in Gainesville, Fla., Dec. 12-14, will make a fight for the reinstatement of the freshmen or one-year rule barring newcomers in college from participation on varsity teams.

This rule has been the center of much discussion in the association for a number of years. Last year the ballot produced a tie vote, but Georgia Tech, who believe they have sufficient majority to carry the issue this year. A clear-cut decision on the rule barring "specials" will be asked.

HUGH DUFFY.

Nobody knows just now in what kind of a circuit the Boston Red Sox under the theatrical gent, Harry Frazee, will be playing next year, but wherever the club hangs its hat, Hugh Duffy will manage it, succeeding Ed Barrow.

Duffy wound up the 1920 season in a blaze of glory by leading the Toronto team to second place in the International league, giving the Baltimore team an awful, biting for the flag.

Duffy has had other managerial experience, having piloted the White Sox and the Milwaukee A. A. teams. As a player Duffy was one of the greatest outfielders in the game. In 1894 Duffy hung up a batting record of .438 for the season, and that mark has stood all attacks since.
